NOTICE

Effective November 1, 2009, the 388th District Court will e-serve all documents generated by the Court through the TexasOnline e-Filing for Courts e-Service. This service does not require attorneys to electronically file their pleadings, and there is not a cost associated with the service.¹ Attorneys can retrieve these documents from any location that has internet access. Attorneys who are already registered with the TexasOnline e-Filing for Courts e-Service system will not need to register; however, account settings related to e-Service may still need to be altered to permit retrieval of e-services sent by the Court.

¹ Individuals that are registered to electronically file are already registered with the TexasOnline authority. These individuals must only log in to their existing Electronic Filing Service Provider (EFSP) using their existing username and password and modify their electronic service settings to opt-in for Global e-Service on all cases. Otherwise, a free complimentary account with TexasOnline may be established. This account will allow you to receive e-served documents. In order to electronically file documents users must pay a per-filing service fee and file through a certified e-filing Service Provider – Visit <http://www.epcounty.com/districtclerk/efile.htm> for more details if you wish to begin e-filing documents online.
